

PUTT-ING People FIRST

THE IDEA

Charity golf tournaments seem to be everywhere these days and now your team can hold one of their own – with a twist! Designing outrageous obstacles and colourfully designed putting greens will put your team to the test, all while generating a donation to a local community kitchen.

THE DETAILS

- Competing teams must ultimately build a mini-golf hole out of a variety of materials including non-perishable food items that will be donated to a local charity
- Construction materials are earned by completing several creative activities that require both teamwork and problem-solving skills
- The final challenge engages the teams in a putt-off tournament where teams will strive for the lowest number of combined strokes – being sub-par is the goal as teams face off against their opponents

TEAM BUILDING PROGRAMS

Our team had an excellent time, really enjoyed themselves, high motivation and engagement in the team. Great ice breaker and very well organized! The best activity we have ever done.

THE RESULTS

- Encourage corporate social responsibility by giving back to the community in a tangible way
- Identify and practice the skills needed for team success
- Build relationships by allowing your team to play with a purpose
